MOLIERE TRICENTENARY CELEBRATION

As part of the College's month-long observance of the 300th anniversary of the death of Moliere, community residents and College community members will attend a lecture, reception, dinner and play presentation held on campus tomorrow afternoon and evening.

The program begins at 4 p.m. with a talk on the 17th Century dramatist-actor's work, in PS-10 by Dr. Thomas Braga, former CSCSB French faculty member, now at the State University of New York, Plattsburgh, who will speak on "Alceste and the Critics."

A reception at 5:30 followed by dinner will be held in the Lower Level of the Commons. At the reception 17th Century music will be performed by a student string quartet composed of Jennifer Parke, Janine Saylor, Michele and Robert Brosseau.

The concluding event is a presentation of two Moliere plays by the Players of the Pear Garden in the Little Theatre at 8:15 p.m.

Tickets for tonight's and tomorrow night's performances of Moliere's "The Versailles Impromptu" and "The Physician in Spite of Himself" are sold out. Limited numbers of tickets are available for next week's performances, November 14, 15, 16 and 17. Curtain time is 8:15 in the Little Theatre. Ticket reservations may be made at the Drama office, FA-102, Ext. 515. Students, faculty and staff tickets are $1. General admission is $2.

Featured in the plays is the College's first artist-in-residence, Harry Cauley, New York actor and playwright, who is teaching on campus this quarter. The two comedies are directed by William Slout, Associate Professor of Drama.

French classes from high schools throughout San Bernardino and Riverside counties will be on campus next Thursday, Nov. 15, for an afternoon of scenes from French plays, slides of 17th Century art and music by a College string trio.

Part of the Moliere-year celebration on campus this month, the day's program will begin at 1 p.m. in the Gymnasium with the trio of Jennifer Parke, Jo Anne Anderson and Katie Hunt playing Haydn's "Divertimento in D Major."

Joe Bas, Professor of Spanish, sponsor of the event, will introduce scenes from Moliere plays to be presented by some of the visiting schools. An excerpt from one of Moliere's plays will be presented by Maria Centofanti and Roland Feldman, CSCSB students, under the direction of Mireille Rydell, Professor of French, and Randi Redfern, CSCSB drama student.

MICHAEL BURGESS TO EDIT
SCIENCE FICTION SERIES

Michael Burgess, Librarian, recently signed a contract with Arno Press, Inc., of New York, a subsidiary of the New York Times, to act as advisory editor for their forthcoming classic science fiction reprint series. The 50-book series will include at least three original anthologies. In addition, Mr. Burgess will edit a supplementary series of 15 titles devoted to non-fiction works about the field, possibly including a reprint of his first book, Contemporary Science Fiction Authors.

Mr. Burgess' second bibliography, the Cumulative Paperback Index, 1939-1959, is now on display in the reference section of the Library. His third book, the Science Fiction Index, to be published by Gale Research Co. in 1975, was recently previewed by the library journal, Choice, in its September issue.

Mr. Burgess is a member of the Science Fiction Research Assn., a group of librarians and scholars devoted to the serious study of fantastic literature.
